

I am writing in opposition to allowing cellphone use onboard commercial airliners. I have been a Flight Attendant for 24 years and am vehemently against such a decision. My work environment is so loud today...I've suffered permanent hearing loss due to the decibel level in the aircraft cabin. Any added noise through ringing phones and loud conversations will only exacerbate noise levels. It's loud enough as it is....can you imagine multiple persons trying to talk over the engine noise and each others conversations? It'll be a nightmare...and it will be the day I have to retire from the airline industry. Please do NOT allow cellphone use inflight!!
